Although many people read and write English very well, they often have many difficulties in speaking and listening.

It's quite important to understand that writing/reading is a different language than speaking/hearing. They're related but only quite tenuously.

~~There are~~

Learning English consists of 4 aspects:

people - to talk to.

vocabulary - stock of words/frazes

grammar - rule how to combine vocabulary.

pronunciation - mastering the awkward new sound environment.

© 1990 The Center For Applied Epistemology

until recently, pronunciation
has remained the one aspect
most troublesome — Mainly because no one new
how to teach it.

People see what they expect to see — hear what
they expect to hear

You probably still hear with Korean ears. —

If you want to enter the English speaking world you must develop American Ears.
That's not as difficult as it used to be.
Heronstone Associates has developed a revolutionary new method of ear and mouth training.

© 1990 The Center For Applied Epistemology

In 16 wks we guarantee that you'll dramatically improve your American pron. but have the skills to continue your mastery of pron. on your own to whatever level of proficiency you choose. If you're not completely satisfied you may request all or part of your money back* - including tapes if you return them.

It makes a lot more sense to pay for a clean environment up front. In the purchase of the product — in preventing pollution before we have to clean it up later — when it's done harm and we don't really know the cost.
We'll know the cost of prevention. It's expensive. But probably cheaper than clean up.

Many people read/write some english very well - better than many/most americans. But people/americans/ the natives don't understand them.

You can't blame the natives - they're not all that bright.

You have to speak in a way that they can understand you.

You hear with Japanese ears. They hear with American ears.

if americans hear a strong accent. what they believe is a...

They think you're stupid.

Another Useful Distinction.

between 1) understand all the words
2) understand the concept

e.g. idioms:

- cross that bridge.....
- ? anger shows up / I got angry / anger arises foreigners (new learners of a 2nd language) are familiar with this. It applies also to natives-born speakers. many "leading-edge" concepts are creating new idioms.

Script:

It takes an effort to talk with someone with an accent. You have to really listen; you hafta try to understand - you hafta want it.
many some ~~most~~ americans resent people with accents

nevertheless, you can observe this errant logic functioning in otherwise intelligent and apparently sane individuals.

① If "they" don't understand me, "they" are stupid.
② ∴ If I don't understand "them", they I'm stupid.
Since ② is impossible - "they" must be "bad".

Just cause yer on a diet doesn't mean you can't look at the menu.

~~ways to approach this~~

some approaches

1. plan it first
2. do it symmetrically
3. don't do it "
4. just start somewhere.
5. Pay attention
6. don't make any "mistake."
   two ways to "not make mistake"
   1. don't try for any particular outcome!
   2. do it right.

how to use them
how lang. mach. work

History is created by ordinary people who take
the trouble to get involved.
History books recount the names of only a few of the people who were instrumental in some event.
There were thousands who felt just as much a part of it as Washington, Jefferson, etc.
What counts is THE FEELING of participation — knowing
you make a difference.
